

Altar Boy Retreat - 5/23/15
Presented by Nicco Livingston

A summary by Ambrose Bushelli

Last night I learned to use freedom to help others, and to use it to help God. I learned to love God and mean it with our heart and go to church to serve the priests (as altar boys) and do it as a sacrifice and to serve God.

We have been called to liberty to not use the opportunity for flesh but through love serve others.

In the Old Testament archpriests were only allowed in the altar (once a year) and the people would tie a rope with bells to his feet in case he died and follow it a little bit.

Brushing our teeth is a routine we do two times a day but do we think about one and all of your teeth? You should make prayer into a routine too!!! But think about God, and as Saint Paul says, turn prayer into a routine. I learned that in all my deeds and words God will guide my thoughts and feelings. I would like to thank Ephrem and Abay and Fr. Noah and Fr James and most of all Nicco Livingston. Thank you all.
